

LIGHTS OUT PHILLY

In Partnership With

BIRD SAFE PHILLY

Bird Safe Philly is a collaborative effort led by the Academy of Natural Sciences of Drexel University, Delaware Valley Ornithological Club, National Audubon Society, Valley Forge Audubon Society, and Wyncote Audubon Society.

As we near the end of 2022, we want to express our sincere gratitude for your participation in Lights Out Philly throughout the spring and fall migration seasons!

You joined more than 100 commercial, residential and municipal participants across the Greater Philadelphia region in turning off lights at night to help prevent bird collisions, and your efforts are making a difference.

Recently, we partnered with a team at KPMG to analyze bird collision data collected in Philadelphia, before and after Lights Out. We are still in the early stages, but with the limited data available, we have already begun to see the positive impact that turning off lights is having on reducing bird collisions.

We truly appreciate and value your commitment to making safer skies for birds, while saving energy. Visit Lights Out Philly online for updates about the upcoming 2023 season.

We wish you all a safe and happy holiday season!

Sincerely,

The Lights Out Philly Team
